

Behavior Matrix

Be Safe:

- Use walking feet
- Keep a calm body, especially when living Bug Ambassadors are out
- Keep hands, feet, and objects to yourself
- Follow instructions the first time
- Stay within any boundaries set by adults
- Keep your hands to yourself while in the butterfly room. If a butterfly lands on you, stay calm and let an adult know
- Use calm, indoor voices

Be Respectful:

- Listen to all instructions carefully
- Raise your hand to ask a question or share an observation, no blurting out
- Wait patiently for your turn and listen closely when someone else is speaking
- There is more than one way to explore the world of bugs, using your eyes is a great option if you, or someone else, doesn't want to hold our bugs. Be kind, with your words and actions, to others who interact with the bugs differently from how you choose to.
- Help us keep the classroom clean by throwing away trash and putting away supplies when asked
- Use pencils for your work, not for drawing on the walls or tables
- Use calm, indoor voices and always use kind and appropriate language
- Use your words (and not your actions) to tell an adult if you're done holding the bug and they will help you.

Be Curious:

- Ask LOTS of questions
- Be brave – don't be afraid to make mistakes or try new things
- Keep an open mind
- Support your classmates as you learn new things together
